French Gain Ground in Macedonia—City of Drama Seized With Greeks.

By Associated Press.

PETROGRAD, Aug. 30.—The Russians have captured Pankov Mountain in the Carpathians on the Hungarian border, the War Office announced today.

The village of Rafalov, on the Bystritsa-Nadorna River, near the border, also has been captured by the Russians.

BERLIN, via London, Aug. 30.—The abandonment of part of Transylvania to the Rumanians is forecast in dispatches from newspaper correspondents at the Austrian army headquarters.

The correspondents intimate that the central Powers will not attempt to defend the entire border, owing to its crookedness and the large number of troops required for the adequate protection of a front half as long as the Russian battle line. It will be advisable, the dispatches say, to shorten the front by abandonment of certain parts of Transylvania.

RUMANIAN CAPITAL BOMBARDED BY 2 ENEMY AIRCRAFT

Zeppelin and Aeroplane Said to Have Been Driven Off by Artillery Without Doing Damage.

BUCHAREST, Rumania, via London, Aug. 30.—Bucharest was bombarded Monday night by a Zeppelin and aeroplane.

The text of the official statement says: "During Monday night a Zeppelin and a foreign aeroplane threw several bombs on Bucharest without causing the least damage. Artillery drove them off. "Enemy aeroplanes threw bombs on Balliche, Piatra and Niamti without damage."

HARD FIGHTING IN MACEDONIA

Bulgars Take City of Drama After Battle With Greeks—French Gain.

PARIS, Aug. 30.—While reports are being received here of Rumanian successes, the War Office announced today that severe fighting is in progress on the Macedonian front. The statement says the French gained ground west of the Vardar River and that Bulgarian attacks west of Lake Ostrovo were repulsed by the Servians.

The Athens correspondent of the Matin telegraphs that the city of Drama, in Northwestern Greece, has been seized by the Bulgarians after a battle with the Greek garrison.

The dispatch says that the Bulgarians captured three forts and took prisoner the Greek garrison of 120 men and that a number of soldiers were killed. This news is confirmed, the correspondent adds, by refugees who have reached Athens.

Drama is one of the principal towns in Northeastern Greece, 75 miles northeast of Saloniki, in the district east of the Struma River, which the Bulgarians have been occupying for the last fortnight. It was announced at Athens last week that Germany and Bulgaria had given a written undertaking to Greece that their troops would not enter Kavala, Drama or Berea.

The Petit Parisien publishes a report that the Rumanians, having forced their way into Transylvania, have occupied two important cities beyond the mountains.

"It is persistently rumored here," wired the Central News correspondent at Zurich, Switzerland, "that the Rumanian cavalry has crossed Rotherthum Pass and is approaching Hermannstadt, Hungary."

The first news of Rumanian success came last night in the official bulletin from Vienna, which said:

"At all the passes of the 600-kilometer (35-mile) Rumanian mountain frontier our frontier guards engaged the enemy successfully."

"Only a far-reaching encircling movement of strong Rumanian forces obliged our advanced detachments to withdraw, according to plan, to a position prepared in the rear."

A significant dispatch has been received here by wireless from Bucharest saying:

"One of the acts immediately preceding the end of the war will be the evacuation of the Rumanian army from the Balkans."

20 of Dead Drowned by Boat Returning to Ship at San Domingo Being Upset.

FOUR DIE BY EXPLOSION

Two Officers and 72 Men Hurt When Memphis Is Driven on the Rocks.

By Associated Press.

SANTO DOMINGO, Aug. 30.—The United States cruiser Memphis is still on the rocks off the outer harbor and is in a dangerous position. An explosion in the boiler room resulted in a large number of casualties. It is feared the loss of life is heavy.

Rear Admiral Pond was ashore at the time of the explosion. The weather continues very bad.

A wireless dispatch today from the United States gunboat Castine, which put to sea when the storm broke, said the vessel was cruising in front of the harbor.

Later in the day the sea became smoother and the landing of sailors from the Memphis was effected.

Three of the wounded of the Memphis engineer force died today. The bodies will be sent home.

The Memphis probably will be a total loss.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Incomplete advices to the Navy Department early today indicated that between 20 and 30 American bluejackets lost their lives yesterday when the armored cruiser Memphis was driven ashore in a sudden tropical storm at San Domingo City. The full report from Rear Admiral Pond on casualties is expected hourly.

The Navy Department was calling the vessel ship Solace by radio today to send her to the scene of the disaster. She was somewhere in the vicinity of Santo Domingo. The transport Dixie, from Vera Cruz to Key West, with Luis Cabrera, head of the Mexican coast guard, also will be intercepted and sent to take aboard the survivors of the Memphis.

Sea Had Been Smooth.

In his first message last night Rear Admiral Pond said the ship would be a total loss. The Rear Admiral himself went ashore two hours before the storm and his report lays stress upon the fact that the sea was unusually smooth at that time. He stated also that 20 men of a liberty party were overtaken by the storm as they returned to the ship and were drowned.

Rear Admiral Pond's second message showed the Memphis had gotten up steam and probably would have escaped to sea had not the main steam pipe burst. Nearly all the injured were men who were drowned.

The muster roll was on board in the safe, the second message said. "Only incomplete muster has therefore been made. Will have exact muster made early in morning and report missing. No casualties among officers. Capt. Beach last to leave ship."

The gunboat Castine narrowly escaped the same fate as the Memphis. She was dragged toward shore by the storm, but finally got up sufficient steam to make her way to sea, with steering gear disabled and every lifeboat smashed. Rear Admiral Pond reported the Castine safe and under control.

Rear Admiral Pond's second message follows:

"All hands off the Memphis, Capt. Beach and I had to leave the ship. When the storm struck, steam was up and main engines working, but main steam line burst. Cause unknown. Those near too seriously injured to be questioned. Two officers injured but will recover. One enlisted man died very seriously injured and 67 slightly injured, mostly in engineer's force. Several men missing, probably drowned."

The navy tug Potomac which left San Domingo City for Port-au-Prince at 1:30 p. m. yesterday just before the storm broke is thought to be safe although there is no word from her.

Warned of Storm.

Rear Admiral Benson, at the Navy Department, explained that the construction of the Memphis is such that she probably would withstand a great amount of pounding, allowing for rescue of those aboard. He said he was puzzled over how the accident occurred, since officers of the ship had been warned early in the day of approach of a tropical storm.

The Memphis formerly was the Tennessee. Her name was changed May 22 last. Recently she has been doing duty in San Domingo waters in connection with the revolution.

She is of 14,000 tons and has a horsepower of 2,000. Her complement is 900 men. She is the flagship of the cruise force of the United States Atlantic fleet.

BIG FLOUR MILLS MAY CLOSE

Minneapolis Concerns Will Cease Operations If Railroad Men Strike.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 30.—Every flour mill in Minneapolis will be closed 30 minutes after the order for a nationwide railroad strike becomes effective, according to an announcement today by the Washburn-Crosby company.

"All the mills in the city are filled to capacity, and with no available storage space, and no way in which to move the output, it will be necessary to discontinue operations immediately if the strike order becomes effective," said an official of the company.

BEAU DRUMMEL OF CABARET CIRCUIT HELD FOR FRAUD

C. V. Riccardi, Young Lawyer, Arrested in Kansas City on Complaints of Clients.

TALKED OF BUYING HOTEL

Client Alleges He Gave Attorney Check for $500 and Deal Failed to Materialize.

Constantino Vincent Riccardi, a young attorney who lives at the Buckingham Hotel and flourished in the gay life of the West End cabaret circuit, was arrested yesterday afternoon at the Muehlbach Hotel in Kansas City on a charge of embezzlement by bailer. He was brought to St. Louis today by a detective and immediately began trying to arrange bond.

The embezzlement charge grows out of a transaction in which Riccardi represented that he was promoting a stock company to take over Hotel Beers, at Grand avenue and Olive street. It is charged that he accepted a check for $500, with which to purchase stock for a client, and that when no deal developed, he let the check pass into the possession of a third party, without reimbursing the client.

Was Indicted in Los Angeles.

Several weeks ago the Bar Association began investigating Riccardi's career in Indianapolis and Los Angeles, before his coming here a year ago. It was ascertained that Riccardi was indicted in Los Angeles for embezzlement, that he fled to Monte Carlo, and later, in 1914, returned from Europe and surrendered in Los Angeles. On the eve of his trial there the prosecuting witness, a woman, disappeared, and since has not been heard of. The charge was dismissed, and a second indictment was returned, but efforts to find the missing witness have been futile.

When Riccardi appeared on the cabaret circuit, some of the best known young men about town noted that he was a fastidious dresser, that he invariably handed out monogrammed cigarettes from a silver or gold case, that he was a man of suave and courteous manner, and that he had an automobile painted in gay colors. They also noted that he changed his suits about three times a day and had a plentiful wardrobe.

Gradually, as his acquaintance among men widened, he was introduced in the cafes to young women of some wealth and socially prominent families. It was not long before he was seen as the escort of some of them.

Among them was a young woman of high social standing, living on Lindell boulevard, and it is said that he recently had boasted that he was engaged to marry her. Another of his acquaintances was the daughter of a high city official.

Some of Riccardi's troubles began, when Sidney Francis, son of the Ambassador to Russia, introduced him to George D. Little, an attorney and member of a family socially prominent. Riccardi induced Little to take an office on "Belmont" street, a few blocks from the city hall.

Little moved again after a week. Little had learned of Riccardi's career in Los Angeles, and shortly afterward former Judge Daniel G. Taylor, for the Bar Association, asked an inquiry into Riccardi's adventures on the Coast. This investigation is still under way.

Clients Make Complaints.

The complaint upon which Riccardi was arrested was made yesterday afternoon by John Beltram of 422 North Newstead avenue. He was accompanied to the Circuit Attorney's office by Barry Noonan, a lawyer, and by Anthony Canzani of 509 Shaw avenue, who has been employed in Riccardi's law office because of his wide acquaintance among the Italian population in Southwest St. Louis, known as "Dago Hill."

An hour before Beltram's appearance, Assistant Circuit Attorney Thomas had been in conference with a number of Italians who had been Riccardi's clients. They were accompanied by the Rev. Father Caesar Spigardi, pastor of St. Charles Borromeo church, who acted as interpreter. A woman complained that Riccardi had represented her in the sale of her property for $800, and that thus far she had received only $25 cash, although she had seen Riccardi receive the money. She got from Riccardi some papers, the import of which she did not comprehend. She was told to bring the papers in the case to the Circuit Attorney's office.

Father Spigardi said Riccardi had insisted upon donating an automobile for a carnival given at the Coliseum last winter by Father Spigardi's church. Afterward, the priest said, Riccardi demanded $300 for the machine, and rather than have any trouble about it he gave him the money. He said he had been told that Riccardi had represented her in the sale of her property for $800, and that thus far she had received only $25 cash, although she had seen Riccardi receive the money. She got from Riccardi some papers, the import of which she did not comprehend. She was told to bring the papers in the case to the Circuit Attorney's office.

Riccardi, to show how firmly he believed in the project, announced that he was going to invest $2000 of his own money. Accordingly, he wrote a check for that amount, placed it in an envelope addressed to Anthony Canzani, and explained that Canzani was "a friend of his."

Lawyer Who Is Under Arrest as He Appeared at His Desk

Two at Jefferson City Have Place Provisioned and Go Through Hole in Wall.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 30.—The escape, a week ago, of two convicts was made known today by the prison officials, following the discovery of the manner of getting their freedom. Workmen building the new wall found under the temporary board floor of one of the guard towers a hole large enough for two men to hide in. The escape of the two men preceded that of four who got away Friday night.

The two men had dug the hole in the earth, stocked it with provisions and water and lay there during the next day, until the search for them had been abandoned, when they made their exit from the prison by means of a large hole in the wall in which they had left a loose stone.

The two men were Phillip Wallington and Fred King, sent here from Jackson County for burglary, Feb. 19, 1915, to serve 10 and 15 years respectively. Bloodhounds were used in trying to trail the convicts, but they would not leave the wall. Their actions, which were considered peculiar, were explained by discovery of the cache yesterday.

The four men who escaped Friday night saved a lock and scaled the wall after deluding a watchman into the belief that they were electricians working on the prison lighting system. Only one of the four was captured. He broke his leg getting over the wall and was unable to get more than a block from the prison. There have been 18 escapes from the prison within two months.

PRESIDENT MAY ASK RAILROAD WORKERS TO PUT OFF STRIKE

Direct Appeal to Men in Ranks Considered, If Brotherhood Leaders Fail to Rescind Order.

COMMITTEE HEARINGS ON BILLS BEGIN TOMORROW

One Provides Eight-Hour Day and Wage Commission—Another Follows Canadian Plan of Inquiry—Third Permits Federal Control of Lines for Military Necessity.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—With both sides making last hour preparations for a great railway strike Monday morning, President Wilson today turned all the influence of his administration toward persuading the brotherhood leaders to postpone or rescind their strike order until Congress shall have had opportunity to act.

There were intimations that should the labor leaders continue adamant, President Wilson even might make a public appeal to the railway workers themselves to direct their leaders to postpone it.

Despite denials of the labor leaders that President Wilson or anyone else had asked them to postpone the strike, there were abundant evidences that such was the case, and somehow there was a feeling in Congress, in administration circles and in other places that a way would be found to avert the walkout. No one knew what it was, but the feeling prevailed.

Can't Rescind Order, Leaders Say.

After a conference with Secretary Wilson at the Department of Labor, the brotherhood leaders reiterated that no power on earth except a satisfactory settlement would avert the strike and that they had no power to rescind the order.

The first legal phase of the situation developed with the temporary injunction issued by a local court in Nebraska restraining the men from striking on the Union Pacific. This brought up for the first time the effect of the much-discussed Clayton anti-injunction act passed by Congress at the behest of labor. The brotherhood leaders unreservedly expressed the opinion that the injunction was in contravention of the law and could not stand. There were intimations that similar injunctions might be sued out in different parts of the country where the sentiment of the men is known to be against the strike.

With notices of freight embargoes and prospective delays to passenger traffic pouring in from all parts of the country, Chairman Howard Elliott of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee today said that the Interstate Commerce Commission should determine if freight rates should be increased, that the pay for the new schedule day should be reduced below the present 10-hour standard, that for all service in excess of eight hours employees shall receive pro rata pay.

The compulsory investigation bill is modeled after the Canadian act which forbids a strike or lockout during investigation. Railroads and labor leaders would be penalized from $500 to $5000 a day if a lockout or strike were called during deliberations of the board.

Chairman Adamson of the House Interstate Commerce Committee today told Senate Newlands, chairman of the Senate Committee, that legislation for the eight-hour day and for a commission would be enacted in all probability by both houses, but that nothing was feasible beyond those two propositions. Adamson said he did not believe congressional arbitration and consideration of increase in freight rates would pass either House.

Opinions Differ as to Whether Laws Proposed Would Avert a Strike

There is no unanimity of opinion among the brotherhood leaders as to whether the suggested measure to forbid a strike, pending investigation by a public commission, if passed and made effective before next Monday, could apply validly to the present situation. Railway executives believe, however, that the legislation advocated will force a suspension of action, possibly only by the pressure of public opinion.

Embargo on Perishable Freight.

This Government machinery is humming today with strike plans there comes from all sections of the country reports that railroads are declaring embargoes on perishable goods, refusing to accept freight with a guarantee of prompt delivery and warning all against passenger travel extending past 7 a. m. Monday, the hour set for the strike. These reports give a hint of the rigors which may be expected from a general strike.

As a sequel to the conference in Speaker Clark's office at the capital last night, between the President and congressional leaders of both parties, these leaders will hold another meeting today to map out a course.

Members of Congress are not fully agreed on methods, but they are represented as in entire accord with the purpose to prevent, in some way, the threatened tieup. Some measures to be agreed upon probably will be attached to the bill pending in the Senate to increase members of the Interstate Commerce Commission from seven to nine.

Objections to Eight-Hour Law.

The eight-hour day law for interstate railroad traffic, suggested by the President, is not entirely agreeable to the brotherhoods, for they want with the eight-hour day, 10 hours pay, and Congress has no authority to prescribe wages. The employees expect the principal fight against this to be made by the railroads.

The proposal for investigation by a presidential commission is welcomed by the railroads, but not by the men.

The suggestion that Congress empower the Interstate Commerce Commission to grant higher rates, as compensation for increased wages is frowned upon by the railroads, in the belief that shippers will object and the good will of these interests will be lost.

The most violent objection of the brotherhoods is to the proposed law for investigation of future labor disputes and the prohibition of strikes or lockouts during the investigation. Railroad executives favor this measure.

Many legislators believe the President's recommendation of a law authorizing forced governmental arbitration certain roads for military purposes; therefore they insist that the

ST. LOUIS DISTRICT MIGHT HAVE 50,000 RAILWAY STRIKERS

Trainmen's Official, Here, Thinks Equal Number in Allied Lines Would Be Affected.

Railroad brotherhood officials today opened headquarters at the American Annex Hotel, from which they will direct the activities of trainmen in this section when the railroad strike goes into effect. M. W. Cadie, assistant grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, and John Hanson, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, will be in charge.

Bannon, who arrived last night from the conference with President Wilson at Washington, said that the strike is inevitable, unless the trainmen's demands are met. In that case, more than 50,000 men working in a radius of 300 miles of St. Louis will go out on strike. And at least that many more in allied lines will be affected, he explained.

"We expect every man to say 'out' in fact, they are anxious to do so," he said. "We do not anticipate violence, but of course there will be peaceful picketing. And the railroads will find it a harder matter to run their lines without our help than they imagine."

"It is time for the public to awaken to the justice of our demands, and when the public fully understands—as they are beginning to—they will be with us. We are asking for justice and fighting for humanity."

"The eight-hour day has been enforced in other industries for 15 or 20 years, and it is time we have it. Even the President of the United States sees the justice of our demands, and yet cannot give us what we want. The reason is they have got their—now we are asking for ours."

Beau Brummel of Cabaret Circuit Is Held for Fraud

wealthy young fellow," who was the trustee. Riccardi then summoned his office assistant and handed him the envelope, with instructions to mail it. At this point Canonari took up the details of the transaction. He explained that he was the office assistant to whom Riccardi handed the letter. He noted the letter was addressed to him, and, walking into another room, put it in his pocket. Later, when Beltram and Muscato were gone, he asked for what purpose the letter was intended. Riccardi, he said, took the letter back and told him he only intended making Muscato and Beltram believe that he was putting his own money into the hotel deal.

Muscato gave Riccardi a check for $500, dated seven days later, as he did not want the money drawn out of the bank until the hotel company was organized. When he heard nothing about the deal, Muscato demanded the return of the check. Riccardi, Beltram said, admitted disposing of the check and promised to pay the money back. Beltram learned that J. S. McIntyre had the check and that it had not been cashed. Yesterday civil suit to recover the check was filed.

Assistant Circuit Attorney Thomas held that although the check never was cashed, it was the same as a promissory note, and he drew up a warrant charging Riccardi with embezzlement of $500.

The police were instructed to arrest Riccardi. They learned he was in Kansas City, and a detective there found the lawyer at the Muehlbach Hotel. Riccardi had a railway ticket to St. Louis and said he had planned to return on a train leaving Kansas City at 11 p. m. He agreed to pay a detective's expenses to accompany him on that train.

He returned to St. Louis. They arrived in St. Louis at 10 o'clock this morning, and at police headquarters Riccardi was photographed and measured for the Rogues' Gallery.

The lawyer laughed when told of the charge against him. He said he was fortified with statements of all his transactions, in the handwriting of his clients, and that he had done nothing wrong.

He left St. Louis eight days ago, he said, taking his mother and his brother to Boulder, Colo. On his return he stopped at Denver and met H. Clay Bernard, a lawyer and old friend, who asked him to return to Kansas City with him in an auto. They reached Kansas City yesterday and the detective followed them. Bernard said Riccardi was a graduate of Yale. He expressed confidence in Riccardi's integrity.

Riccardi said Muscato had been his client for seven months, and that if he wanted to settle with Muscato he could present a bill for $1000 for legal services. The $500 check, he said, was a personal loan from Muscato. He would not discuss in detail the loan.

He boasted that he was handling "about all the Italian legal cases in the city," although he had been here only a short time. He told of having filed a $200,000 suit against Robert E. Nolker, president of the Aero Club, in behalf of Chiccolini, the opera singer, for damages because Nolker mentioned the singer in a divorce petition. He also represented Joseph Ariotti, a wealthy Italian, who killed Mounted Policeman Roberts a few months ago.

Riccardi is 25 years old and the son of the late Frederico Riccardi, baker in Utica, N. Y. Leaving Utica in 1909, after studying law in an office there, he was admitted to the bar at Indianapolis. Dispatches from Indianapolis say he became the attorney for the Italian Consul there, and managed to get into a social circle where he met and married Miss Caybelle Culver, daughter of Mrs. Charles T. Whitsett, who was the widow of a wealthy undertaker and philanthropist. Their wedding was a social event.

Riccardi had an office in Indianapolis.

RAILROADS HERE PLACE EMBARGO ON PERISHABLE GOODS

Officials Say They Will Be Able to Run More Trains Than Public Expects.

The railroads of the Middle West last night in St. Louis took their first definite action putting into effect their plans for handling the great railroad strike called for Monday morning by placing an embargo on all perishable freight which will not reach its destination by noon today.

Such an order was issued by the executive officers of nearly all the railroads. The Burlington railroad announced it would accept freight "subject to loss, damage or delay on account of strike."

At Houston an embargo on all perishable food products and livestock, effective at once, was announced by the International & Great Northern Railroad.

At Frisco and Wabash also placed an embargo on shipments of perishable freight before the time set for the beginning of the strike. The Burlington and Frisco roads fixed Saturday noon as the latest time for which they would accept freight to reach destination.

Conferees of officials were held all day yesterday in the general offices of the railroads having headquarters in St. Louis, and plans for handling the strike were gone over. Officials of nearly all roads announced that they will be able to run more trains than the public expects they will be able to run.

Do Not Expect Much Interference. William C. Nixon, receiver and chief operating officer of the Frisco, said he was confident that his road could operate trains "if not interfered with too much."

William B. Biddle, receiver and chief traffic officer of the Frisco, said the executive officers of the service depended largely upon the ability to get men. He said he did not anticipate much interference with the operation of trains the road could man. He said there was no plan to give mail train precedence over other classes of trains, and that the first consideration would be to get through trains carrying food.

List of Available Men. Each railroad has a list of men who have applied for work in various capacities. It is the intention of the railroads to collect these men at division points to have them ready to take out trains immediately after the regular employees quit work.

Some of them are experienced engineers, and it is understood about railroad offices that these men immediately will be placed in charge of trains, and that inexperienced men will be given some training before being permitted to take out trains. One official said: "You may be sure that the railroads are not going to risk their property with men they do not believe to be competent to handle it and run it safely to the end of the division."

Will Retain Loyal Men. Each railroad has retained from every office man in its employ a statement of his experience in railroading, and those office men who are willing to go out on train runs will be used.

D. D. Levy, general manager of the Frisco, issued a statement in Springfield, Mo., last night promising that all employees who did not go out on strike and who "remained loyal to the company" would be retained in the employ of the road after the strike was settled. He promised that the road would enter into no settlement which called for removal from their positions of men who remained at work during the strike.

A copy of Levy's statement was sent to every Frisco employee.

Railway men this morning said that employees of railroads having pension systems would lose all rights to pensions if they went out on strike. They said there were many men who, within two or three years, would be entitled to pensions if they remained at work.

The Baltimore and Ohio and the Frisco have the pension systems. With both roads employees must have had continuous service, as shown by the payrolls, to be entitled to pensions. The Frisco retains all officers and employees on a pension of five per cent of the employees' salary for the 10 years prior to his retirement, for each year he has been in the service of the company.

German Submarine Fires on Portuguese Gunboat Off Lisbon.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—The German submarine U-30 attacked a Portuguese gunboat off the entrance to Lisbon harbor Monday night, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Lisbon. A torpedo fired by the submarine missed its mark and the submarine submerged when the gunboat opened fire on it, the dispatch says.

SANTE FE ISSUES STRIKE WARNING

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—President E. P. Ripley of the Atchafalaya, Topeka & Santa Fe this afternoon issued a statement to employees of the road notifying them that the places of those who fail to report for work next Monday will be declared vacant and that employment of new men will be permanent, barring bad behavior.

U. P. Conductor Gets Injunction Against Strike in Omaha Court.

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 30.—Judge Willis E. Sears of the District Court of Douglas County today issued an order restraining the general and local officials of the Order of Railway Conductors from attempting to enforce a strike on the lines of the Union Pacific.

The order was issued on petition of Edwin A. Hamilton, a conductor of the Union Pacific and a member of the Order of Railway Conductors, who declares that he and many other employees of the road are eager to continue at work.

6000 Freight Handlers in Chicago Ready to Strike.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Approximately 6000 union freight handlers are ready to strike today to enforce a demand that business agents be allowed to collect dues from union members during certain hours of employment at the freight houses.

At a meeting of the Freight Handlers Union last night the strike was authorized for today, unless the railroad officials grant the demands of the men. Railroad officials say they have plenty of men to fill the ranks of the strikers. More than 100 freight handlers have been on strike for two days, but the railroad representatives say their places have been filled.

Employees of Two Duluth Ore Lines Say They Will Not Strike.

DULUTH, Minn., Aug. 30.—Employees of the Duluth, Mesaba & Northern Railroad and the Duluth & Iron Range will not strike, according to statements of employees today. Agreements between the roads and the men are considered binding by the men.

Assurance that Duluth would escape a tieup of ore shipments, and that there would be little or no interference in the receiving of ore from the Minnesota Iron ranges and the loading of it at the Duluth-Superior docks if a general strike is declared, was given by officials.

Laws Asked for by President and Proposals of Railroad Managers to Avert Strike

FOLLOWING are the laws which President Wilson yesterday asked Congress to pass to avert a railroad strike, and the proposals for a basis of settlement made by the railroad managers in a public statement:

PRESIDENT'S RECOMMENDATIONS.

"1. Immediate provision for the enlargement and administrative reorganization of the Interstate Commerce Commission along the lines embodied in the bill recently passed by the House of Representatives and now awaiting action by the Senate; in order that the commission may be enabled to deal with the many great and various duties now devolving upon it with promptness and thoroughness which are with its present constitution and means of action practically impossible.

"2. The establishment of an eight-hour day as a basis of settlement of all railway employees who are actually engaged in the work of operating trains in interstate transportation.

"3. The authorization of the application of the President of a small body of men to observe the actual results in experience of the adoption of the eight-hour day in railway transportation alike for the men and for the railroad; its effects in the matter of operating costs, in the application of the existing practices and agreements to the new conditions and in all other practical aspects, with the provision that the investigators shall report their conclusions to the Congress at the earliest possible date, but without recommendation as to legislative action, in order that the public may learn from an unprejudiced source just what actual developments have ensued.

"4. The explicit approval by the Congress of the consideration by the Interstate Commerce Commission of an increase of freight rates to meet such additional expenditures by the railroads as may have been incurred by the adoption of the eight-hour day and which have not been offset by administrative readjustment and economies, should the facts justify the increase.

"5. Amendment of the existing Federal statute, which provides for the mediation, conciliation and arbitration of such controversies as the present by adding to it a provision that in case the methods of accommodation now provided for should fail, full public investigation of the merits of every such dispute shall be instituted and completed before a strike or lockout may lawfully be attempted.

"6. The lodgement in the hands of the executive of the power, in the case of military necessity, to take control of such portions and such rolling stock of the railways of the country as may be required for military use and to operate them for military purposes, with authority to draft into the military service of the United States such train crews and administrative officials as the circumstances require for their safe and efficient use."

Progressive Republicans of the Interstate Commerce Committee, voicing opposition in the Senate today to some of President Wilson's legislative proposals, in a statement declared that Congress, in search of legislation, was confronted by a "Sevilla and a Charybdis" and that "it will be interesting to consider how far we can steer away from one without encountering the peril of the other."

Senator Cummins insisted that compulsory arbitration was not only impracticable, but unconstitutional, and that any attempt to establish maximum wages for railroad employees was "a device to complete and immediate failure," although Congress undoubtedly has the right to prescribe both minimum and maximum wages.

The Senator proposed as a possible deterrent to industrial disputes, without advocating it or expressing any opinion on the justice or wisdom of it, legislation that would impose a "modified or partial restriction of the right to strike in a combined way," which, he said, "would make for industrial peace and at the same time would not unduly infringe upon personal liberty."

"I do not doubt," he said, "that Congress could create a tribunal and confer upon it jurisdiction to seize upon a controversy between, for instance, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the railway company, which employs engineers, call the parties before it, take evidence and render judgment. If this procedure is what the people have in mind when they speak of compulsory arbitration, the plan is I believe within the constitutional authority of Congress."

"Here is the obstacle that cannot be overcome. The attempt to make men work against their will is involuntary servitude, forbidden not only by the thirteenth amendment to the Constitution, but by the natural instinct of free men in a free country. Compulsory arbitration, in the complete sense, is a myth, a mere idle dream. It is only possible under pure Socialism or in a pure monarchy."

Senator Cummins was interrupted continually by Senators and questioned closely.

Protest Against 8-Hour Bill.

Robert T. Frazier, representing unorganized railroad employees of the country, sent to President Wilson a letter today protesting against Mr. Wilson's recommendation to Congress yesterday that a law be passed for an eight-hour basic day for railroad employees actually engaged in the work of operating trains in interstate transportation.

Frazier pointed out that this legislation would not affect 90 per cent of railroad employees.

"I must respectfully warn you of the events sure to follow," wrote Frazier, "which will place the industrial fabric of the nation in greater jeopardy than at present. The 10 per cent most needy and organized among the demands for recognition and protection."

tion contemplated will forestall the strike, of itself.

President Meets Leaders.

At the conference in Speaker Clark's room at the Capitol last night there were present, besides the President and the Speaker, Republican Leader Mann, Democratic Leader Kitchin, Representative Sterling of Illinois, the ranking Republican of the House Interstate Commerce Committee, and Representative Adamson, the chairman. No definite conclusions were reached.

"We all want to prevent the strike," said Speaker Clark after the conference last night. "There was no division of opinion about that. If the strike can be forestalled, I think Congress can go home and leave legislation to the future. If we can't prevent the strike, there is a different situation. We talked over with the President the entire subject. All the legislation proposed was discussed, but no conclusion was reached about any of it. None of the suggestions made by the President were eliminated from consideration."

"The general opinion seemed to be that whatever is to be passed will be tacked on the House bill to enlarge the Interstate Commerce Commission, and that the Senate will act first. The House will wait for the bill to come over, unless the Senate is too slow."

First of Bills Offered.

The first measure dealing with the situation was the bill introduced by Representative Buchanan of Illinois, one of the labor group in the House. It proposes that in the event of unsatisfactory service on interstate lines the President be empowered to take them over and operate them on an eight-hour basis, paying time and one-half for overtime at the present wage scale. It was referred to the Interstate Commerce Committee.

President Wilson confided to advisers his earnest hope that the brotherhoods recognizing the fairness with which he has treated them, would yield to his request that, pending action by Congress, they rescind their strike order. The President takes the position that in view of his recommendations to Congress, the brotherhoods have nothing to gain and much to lose if they carry out their strike order, because he believes under such circumstances public opinion will stand against them.

The President intends to use all his influence to have action in Congress, but should there be delay he intends to appeal to the patriotism of the leaders and their duty to the public not to persist in calling the strike at this time.

With the issue set forth before the country, the President expects the public to make known to the brotherhoods its opposition to a strike regardless of the merits of the controversy.

Many of the railway presidents departed for their headquarters, announcing their intention that it was necessary to be near their properties. The managers' Conference Committee, which has full authority to deal with the workmen, remained here. Brotherhood committees who had not already departed hurried away, announcing their intention to be in their home districts Monday. Only Presidents Garretson, Stone, Carter and Lee, heads of the conductors, engineers, firemen and trainmen, respectively, remained here. They announced their intention of directing the strike from Washington.

The President, realizing that their latest proposal would not be accepted by the workers, told the railway executives yesterday he was sorry it had been presented and bade them good-by, saying: "God help you; I cannot."

Provision has been made to police every mile of track and yards of all the great Eastern systems where the brotherhoods are particularly strong. The roads will fight a strike individually and not collectively. Many of the executives declare, will be run more than 50 per cent efficient, particularly on several Western lines, where there is a personal sense of loyalty to the management or where the support of the strike was not encouraged by other roads. What percentage of their trains the Eastern roads can operate is guess-work.

At one time there was a plan to operate only 50,000 miles of the 240,000 or more in the United States, for traffic on main arteries north, south, east and west. It was abandoned, however, because it was pointed out that the sympathy of the public and its support of the railway position might depend to a large degree on the train service and the capacity of the roads to continue to transport the necessities of life.

Help From Republican Side.

"We were all agreed to do everything possible to prevent the strike," said Minority Leader "Caddy" Taft, the only thing that was agreed upon."

Although none of the Congressmen present would discuss the detailed legislative proposals as outlined by the President in his address, there was opposition to portions of it. Some of the members believe that the law providing for a maximum eight-hour work day and provision for a commission to investigate the question of wages and their relation to railroad rates, would absolutely prevent the strike and that nothing more would be required of Congress at this time. One or two of the members thought it unnecessary, if not unwise, to undertake legislation authorizing the President to draft trains and crews to operate the railroads for military purposes, in advance of an actual strike, and a demonstration that such authority was essential to the public welfare.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Twenty-eight companies of coast artillery, approximately 6000 men, now on border duty as provisional infantry units attached to the mobile army, were ordered back today to their posts in the Eastern and Western departments. More than 10,000 additional militiamen, ordered to the border recently, will take the places of the artillery troops.

KOELN MADE REPUBLICAN
EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE HEAD

E. L. Morse on Kansas City Reception Body for Hughes and Lines Up for State and National Tickets.

Republican State Chairman Hughes has appointed Collector Edmund Koeln as chairman of the Executive Committee of the State Committee. Koeln is president of the Henry Lamm Club of St. Louis.

E. L. Morse of Excelsior Springs, a former supporter of Senator Weeks, has been appointed a member of the Reception Committee for the Hughes meeting in Kansas City. There was some uneasiness among the Republicans as to Morse's attitude toward Hughes, and to some of the State candidates, but he said in St. Louis last night he had lined up for the entire state and national tickets.

The Democratic and Republican City Committees are arranging to get the voters registered on the four days, Sept. 1, 2, 3, and 4, when the registration books will be open in each of the 300 precincts of the city. All must register on one of those days or lose the right to vote in November. The two party committees expect the registration to run close to 100,000.

A Great One-Day Sale of NEW PLUSH COATS

Although Plushes have advanced in price in tremendous proportions, Kline's are coming forward with sale of Plush Coats that emphasizes our great buying power and our willingness to offer wanted merchandise at a sale price. We were able to get the manufacturers to sacrifice most of their profit—and we are sacrificing almost our entire profit to make this a wonderful sale. It's a "One-Day Event" for Thursday only, after the doors close at 5 o'clock every Coat remaining will be marked up to the regular price. Every model in this collection is absolutely new—patterned after the late Paris fashions and made within the last two weeks. There are handsome "Salt's" Plushes, trimmed in plush in contrasting "fur" colors—some trimmed in fur—and they are lined with guaranteed Sol satin. They are all out in full-flare styles and embody many novel collar, cuff and belt effects. All sizes for women and misses—on sale at

TAX INCREASE FOR THE SCHOOL BONDS WOULD BE SLIGHT

But 3 1-2 Cents Per $100 Advance Would Provide for Entire Sum.

An increase in the taxes of but 3 1/2 cents per $100 of taxable property will be necessary to provide a sinking fund for the payment of the proposed $3,000,000 bond issue for the Board of Education and will include the interest on the bonds for the 20 years of their life, if the proposition is successful at the special election in November, Superintendent of Instruction Blewett told the Post-Dispatch today.

The figures were prepared for the Superintendent by R. L. Daly, the board's auditor, for use in a campaign soon to be launched for the passage of the bond issue. They are based on the bonds being sold at 4 per cent interest. Supt. Blewett said that unless the bond issue passes, the board and the heads of the various departments have come to the conclusion that half-sessions in the schools will necessarily be extended and that the summer schools and night schools will have to be abandoned.

$2,946,000 for Salaries. He said the expenditures of the board for salaries in the instruction departments for 1914 was $2,946,000, while the general revenue for the year was $4,709,491. The expenditures for textbooks and maintenance was $1,273,677, and for land and buildings $751,226.

"You can readily see from these figures that we must have the money from the bond issue to continue the needed building operations," he said. "There is at present a sufficient number of children already enrolled in the schools and being instructed in portable buildings to fill five 24-room schools. These must be built and we should also figure on one 24-room building and one-third of a high school annually to take care of the normal increase in the attendance."

"The old Penrose School, abandoned in 1912, we are calling into service again and at the opening of the schools next Tuesday we will have classes in eight rooms of this building. You can see the extremes we are being put to."

Dr. James P. Harper, president of the board, said the bond issue must pass or the school system in St. Louis would be set back 20 years.

Bond Issue Needed. "We members of the board are only the trustees of the system and we are certain that the passage of the bond issue is the only hope for it. Unless the bond issue passes, which I have no doubt it will, the schools will lose the good of all development of the last 20 years, and it is certain all summer and night schools will be abandoned."

"The school system of St. Louis is the best in this country. Experts say so and we know it. Why, then, should the citizens not realize the extent of the injury that will be done to this most perfect of systems by defeating the bond issue. Such a defeat would be a case of the residents of the city striking themselves in the faces."

"In reports we have from experts we are told that the general revenue we now get will not be sufficient in a few years to pay the general expenditures. Still we are asked to keep up the system and build new schools from this and now it is asking the impossible and the bond issue is the only relief from the situation."

111 SAID TO HAVE BEEN KILLED IN DRESDEN RIOT

Outbreak Resulted, Correspondent Reports, From Imposing Increased Sentence on Dr. Liebknecht.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—The Hague correspondent of the Central News has a report that 35 civilians, 22 soldiers, and four policemen were killed in riots in Dresden last week.

The disorders are said to have been caused by the imposition of an increased sentence on Dr. Karl Liebknecht for appealing from the findings of a military court.

The Woman "Military Man" Takes Kindly to the Training Plan.

Perchance believing fights for votes, to which her time she now devotes, may lead to warfare in the trench are women occupy the bench.

The training of women begins with the girl. Girls' training schools are telling of their facilities and equipment in the Post-Dispatch advertising columns. See the "Schools and Colleges" column on the first want page Sunday.

3 MEN SHOT THROUGH WINDOWS

Nick Castillo, saloon keeper at 336 Biddle street, and Dominic Gimbrown of the same address were shot and seriously wounded at 11:45 o'clock last night by an unidentified man who fired at them through a window of the saloon.

Jake Rofani, a butcher, 1127 North Ninth street, was fired upon through the show window of his shop, but the charge was deflected by the heavy glass. Charles Bona, 25 years old, a laborer, 901 Bridge street, was arrested as he was running through the alley behind Rofani's shop. He had a double-barreled shotgun containing two empty shells.

Cremation Is a Growing Custom

That his body be cremated was the first provision in the will of the late Richard Harding Davis, famous writer, who died April 17th.

Now everybody interested in Westminster Abbey, the final resting place of England's most honored dead, must be cremated. Frances Willard said that, in providing for her body to be cremated, she was serving the cause of poor, oppressed humanity after her death, as she had tried to serve it in life.

Far Kinder Than Burial

Kate Field, when nearing death, said: "Whoever prefers loathsome worms to ashes, possesses a strange imagination." Could one look into a grave a year or two after burial, he would never be buried himself nor wish a friend to be buried. Far rather the thought—"Then let me rise into a filmy cloud and touch with gold the amber morning sky."

Religion and Cremation

Sanitary and economical, consistent with the tenderest sentiments of human love, in accord with the doctrines of Christianity—Cremation is now understood and approved by those who have studied the subject. Flame does not touch the body; it does not burn. The scientific process of cremation is explained in a 31-page booklet that will be sent to you free.

Two affairs scheduled for this evening, in behalf of the fund from which is paid the cost of pure milk and free ice as essential means to the saving of the lives of babies in the congested districts, are of excellent promise, both in the line of entertainment and additions to the fund.

At the Circle School of Dancing and Expression, Union boulevard and Easton avenue, pupils of the summer class have organized a double event. One of them is the fairy pantomime, "Sleeping Beauty" and the other a cabaret, the former by the younger girls and boys and the latter by the older ones. In each of them there is an array of talent and charm that has been well trained. Upon completion of the program the parents and other adults are to have their chance at dancing.

Another event on this evening's schedule is a miscellaneous program of decidedly interesting songs, dances and recitations, by a group of pretty and talented children, to be given on the lawn of Mrs. Harry Chodoff's home, 2837 North Grand avenue. The girls and boys in this affair have been devoting much of their time to preparation for the event for some weeks, under the skilled coaching of Miss Anna Lindeman of 212 South Twelfth street, and the result of this faithful application cannot fail to prove a genuine delight.

A baseball game between attaches of the office of the auditor of passenger receipts and those of the office of the auditor of disbursements of the Missouri Pacific Railway will be played for the Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund Saturday afternoon, Sept. 9, at Kulage's Park, Newstead avenue and Fenrose street. The rival teams have been selected and practice has proceeded to a point that assures a strong and close contest.

Several of the girls in the same offices have insisted upon lending their aid and are selling tickets for the game, and as there are 400 persons in the employ of the company it is expected that a large crowd will attend. A charge of 10 cents will be made for admission of women and children, while the men will be taxed 25 cents. Notices of the coming contest have been posted throughout the offices. The line-up for the game will be: Auditor passenger receipts—O'Donnell, cf; Zittle, 3b; Bridge, ss; Wagner, rf; Miller, lb; Walters, lf; Schulte, 2b; Nettler, c; Murphy, p. Auditor disbursements—Rau, cf; Henry 2b; Galley, ss; Sutter, rf; Holdsworth, lf; Swartz, p; Haak, 3b; Beaury, c; Mitchell, lb; Umpire, E. Brodie and E. Lunte.

Six children living in the vicinity of Eighteenth street and Coleman avenue earned $2 for the Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund through a charming vaudeville entertainment, chiefly singing and recitations. Those who participated were: Ben, Annie and Julia Rosenberg of 1823 Coleman avenue, Ruth and Estelle Simms of 308 North Market street, and Ruth Streib of 247 Lafin avenue.

Etta and Jack Hausfater of 279 Thomas street, and Helen Bernhardt of 271 Thomas street are to operate a lemonade stand for the Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund shortly. They have already earned some money for the fund, but are not sufficient to satisfy their desires. An entertainment held at 433 St. Louis street, on three days last week, Monday and Wednesday afternoon and Friday night, was the means of adding $2.50 to the Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund. The last performance was attended by nearly 100 persons. The children who made the affair a success, all of whom live on St. Louis street, were: Esther Werner, 433; Dolma Nielsen, 433; Ruth Springer, 433; Margaret Nielsen, 433; Helen Kelleher, 433; Martin Nielsen, 433, and Paul Keary, 433.

ed $5.05 for the Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund. About 50 persons enjoyed the production. The lawn was decorated with Japanese lanterns and crepe paper. Lemonade was sold. Those who had a part in the benefit were: Angela Hennest, 1905 North Spring avenue; Ruth and Naomi Harbe, 2318 Albion place; Harry, Clement and Sybil Turner, 2219 Albion place; Alma and Adel Thym, 2321 Albion place; Lucille and Earl Hartman, 2327 Albion place, and Rosemary Lille, 2340 Albion place.

Five children living in the western section of the city conducted a lemonade stand at the corner of McCausland and Clayton avenue which yielded $2.32 for the Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund. They also sold popcorn. The children are: Lucille and Marie Cramer, 1131 Forest avenue; Marlene Howard, 6047 W. 10th avenue; Marlene Phillips, 6924 Berthold avenue, and Dorothy Dwyer, 6916A Berthold avenue.

Violet Smith of 1553 Buck avenue, and Della Brown of 1552 Buck avenue, gave a charming show and conducted a lemonade stand for the Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund which yielded $1.30. They also sold watermelon, orangeade and cakes.

Garland's Featuring New Fall Raiment

Like the leaves of some great oak, the merchandise in this store is changing almost hourly—taking upon itself the hues of Autumn.

New Fall Suits In a Specially Arranged Thursday Sale at $12.75

Only 200 of these. They're worth considerably more—but we bought them much under value and you know our policy of "sell as we buy."

Serges, Gabardines and Whipcords are the materials and the colors are green, brown, dark and light blue and black. The styles include tailored, belted and button-trimmed and braided effects. Coats 30 to 34 in. lengths. All sizes.

Other Suits at $15.00, $19.95, $25.00 $39.50 and Upward

New Fall Coats Special $15

These, also, come to us by the underprice route, otherwise we would have to ask $20 to $25 for them instead of $15.00.

Wide, flare models, large and roomy, with large sailor or convertible collar. Made of such desirable materials as wool velours, tweeds, chevots, rough wale, gabardine, Irish freize, pebble cloth and broadcloth. Colors are plum, hunter's green, maroon, brown, snake, navy, gray, mahogany, black and mixtures. All sizes. (4th floor).

The newest styles in Boys' Hats, including those of cloth, felt, velvet, corduroy, running in price from $1 to $3.50

Boys' Blue Suits
Boys' Blue Serge and Blue Cheviot Norfolk Suits, in the side, box and inverted-pleat styles, with plain or stitched belt and with two pairs of knickerbockers; sizes 7 to 18 years. Prices $7.50 to $16.50

A Special Sale of Boys' 50c School Blouses at 39c—Every One Brand New
It is only possible to make this unusual offering at this season because a manufacturer made a mistake in marking the sizes on 1200 Blouses. They are in the newest patterns and most desirable materials, but when making your selections please remember that the sizes marked 7 to 15 years are really 5 to 13 year sizes. At this price it will pay everyone to buy a supply of Blouses for the season. Regular 50c values, while this lot lasts, at 39c On Sale on First Floor.

Smartest Autumn Styles in Girls' School Apparel
Do not overlook the advantage of purchasing Girls' Apparel at Vandervoort's, where everything is of the highest standard of quality and the prices very moderate. There are Gingham and Linen Dresses in quite a large variety of styles and colors, for girls of 6 to 16 years (intermediate). Prices $1 to $16.50
Serge and Silk Dresses in both high-waisted and belted models, including some with washable gimpes, in sizes 6 to 16 years (intermediate), are priced at $5.50 to $13.75 Third Floor.

Girls' Sweater Coats in Newest Models
Ideal for the school wardrobe is this "comfy" and very practical Gray Wool Sweater Coat, designed for hard usage. It is a new wool Shaker-knit model—known as the "Barney"—and is attractively priced at $5
Smart Norfolk-style Sweater Coats, with belts, pockets and collars that may be worn high or low, are shown in red, gray and navy. Prices $3.75 and $5 Third Floor.

Tomorrow Will Be the Last Day of Our August Sale of Furs Offering Savings of 15 to 30 Per Cent.

Chic Autumn Dresses for Misses' School Wear
School girls and young business women who are now giving attention to the selection of becoming Fall apparel, will be delighted with our showing of modish Serge and Crepe Dresses, which are especially nice for wear without a coat. They are the right weight and style for this purpose and the variety for choice will make selection an easy matter. We would have you see, especially, the "Byn Maw" and "Wellesley College" models, which we are showing in sizes 14 to 18 years. Prices $11.75 to $19.50 Misses' Shop—Third Floor.

Children's Millinery for School Wear

In our Juvenile Millinery Shop—devoted exclusively to Children's Headwear—we are showing an exceptional assortment of practical Hats for school wear.

The styles embrace the newest modes of the Fall season in felt, velvet and corduroy. Prices 95¢ to $7.50 Third Floor.

Fashionable Mourning Apparel for Autumn

The woman in mourning is invited to make use of the Personal Service given by our Exclusive Mourning Shop.

The seclusion and completeness of this Shop will be found very helpful when mourning outfits for Fall are being selected.

We are making a splendid showing of Tailored Suits—made of gabardine, broadcloth, poplin and velvet—new Blouses of crepe de chine, Georgette crepe and taffeta in tailored and fancy models; also a complete line of Mourning Accessories. # The Growing Demand for Used Cars

What Is a Renewed Cadillac?

Q A renewed Cadillac is one which has been thoroughly overhauled mechanically in our shops and beautifully refinished. It is better than any new car sold at the same price. It is a used car with the chance of a "sting" taken out.

Q We have a complete line of Renewed Cadillac Cars from 1912 to date, at prices which are reasonable.

Q Any of them may be bought for part cash and balance on time, by responsible persons, if desired.

1915 Kissel-Kar
6-cylinder Sedan, with wire wheels. A beautiful car, and in exceptional condition.

1912 Locomobile
4-cylinder, seven-passenger car, with electric starter and lights. Tires almost new.

1912 Pope Hartford
4-cylinder, five-passenger car, with seat covers and electric side and tail lights.

1912 Dorris
4-cylinder five-passenger touring car, in good mechanical condition.

MANY USED CARS SOLD GIVE EXCELLENT SERVICE

The "used car" business in St. Louis has developed into a scientific profession, a very marked change from the time, a few years back, when the old maxim, "Let the buyer beware," was the rule.

"Used cars are a necessary evil in the automobile business," to quote a prominent dealer, "in that there is a constant demand among the people for new cars, and these are people who are financially in position to sacrifice their old cars so as to keep abreast of the styles. Some men feel that they must keep up with the styles in motor cars as closely as they do in coats and neckwear and their wives are even more insistent on being a la mode than the men."

There is also another class that puts on the market used cars and that is the class made up of men who buy automobiles when they cannot afford them. A third class is made up of men who through misfortune find it necessary to sell their automobiles at a sacrifice.

These three classes throw on the market lines of automobiles which are in excellent condition and which will give good service and which can be bought at sacrifice prices. When these cars fall into the hands of reputable dealers, men who are in business to stay, they are carefully looked over in their service departments and their defects noted. In other cases, where repairs are extensive, the dealer offers the car "as is," as the trade term has it, and the buyer gets exactly what he sees and takes the responsibility of making repairs himself.

In instances of this kind it has become the absolute rule for dealers to sell the cars without representation and distinctly, without misrepresentation. Many cars sold "as is" are good bargains, as the buyer can, by doing some of the work himself, and by getting time work done by a good mechanic, transform a car "not good for performance and less for looks" into a good, serviceable vehicle that will run well and go and come for a long time, with careful handling.

Where a car is of a later model and the dealer puts it in order in his own shop, his statement that it is in good condition can be relied upon. A car overhauled in a dealer's shop, by his own mechanics, is, in fact, a rebuilt car, with all worn parts replaced, and it will give as good service as the latest model.

Several of the big dealers in St. Louis have special used car departments with expert men in charge, from which they sell cars of more or less late models under guarantee that they are in perfect condition. This guarantee from a reputable dealer can be as fully depended upon as if it were a guarantee on a new car. The advantage of a used car purchase is that the man with a limited bank account can buy a car with a classy name which looks good and runs good, for about the price that he would pay for a new small car of the low-price kind. He is also able to buy a car at a low price which is large enough—as a seven-passenger touring car—for instance—to accommodate a large family.

Famous-Barr Co's "3 Million Dollars In August" Campaign Ends Thursday At 5 P.M.

As a fitting climax to this most remarkable retailing event from an attendance as well as from a value-giving standpoint, we have prepared a storeful of wondrous offerings for the last day's selling. It has been a month of commercial achievements in which this store's absolute supremacy in this field has stood out in bold relief. It has been a campaign conducted as a practical demonstration of the mighty purchasing power of Famous-Barr Co.'s combined stores, and the resultant benefits it brings home direct to every one in St. Louis every day of the year. Many departments have broken all previous selling records, and we anticipate that tomorrow, the last day, will be the busiest day of the busiest August that St. Louis' greatest retail store has ever known. Come—many value-giving surprises await you.

Grain Values Recover at Chicago. CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Railway strike developments turned the wheat market down grade today and then led to a sharp rally.

Active preparations to meet a general strike of the roads on Monday caused material losses to the industry, but the strike did not begin, and further losses ensued before word of the strike was received. The industry is making efforts to bring about a postponement of the strike. Opening prices ranged from 10 to 26 1/2, with a high of $1.42 to $1.42 1/2. Immediate subsequent losses, which were fractional, and Dec. at $1.45 1/2 to $1.46 1/2 were followed by a gradual complete recovery to yesterday's finish.

Corn awayed with wheat. The precarious condition of much of the corn tended to prevent any radical weakness. After opening 4c to 4 1/2c, it advanced to 4 1/2c to 4 1/2c.

Initiation Fee increases from $10.00 to $15.00 and transfer fee raise from $100.00 to $150.00. Membership and initiation fees are the highest price in the history of the industry.

A Matter of Proportions.

AN eager young teacher was reviewing the Sunday-school lesson in a mission church in Brooklyn. The subject was Moses and the bush that burned without being consumed. The boys of 10 or 12 had been greatly interested in the story, and were now eager to expose their knowledge. Answers followed her question with the rapidity of a machine gun.

"Now, Harry, it's your turn."

"Yesum," was the confident answer.

"Tell me what there was about this burning bush that was different from any bushes that have burned since."

The boy knew—he could tell from the snapping of his eyes—but he paused to formulate his words. "Why, ma'am, you see this here bush it burned up—but it didn't burn down!" The teacher could not have explained it better herself.—Youth's Companion.

Nothing New.

THE present fashion in dress for women is entirely too conservative.

"Conservative? I should call it anything but that."

"Isn't conservative one who sticks to the old order of things?"

"Yes, I suppose so."

"Well, the costumes of today are pretty near going back to the original Garden of Eden styles."

Welcome in Any Event.

AFTER walking together from the station, the two men paused at the corner of the street. Then said one of them, a newly married man:

"We are just close to my house. Won't you come in and have a bit of dinner?"

"Thank you," said his friend, hesitatingly, "but your wife?"

"Oh, that's all right," the young husband quickly assured him. "If her cooking is a success she'll be pleased to have another to eat it; and if it's a failure—I shall!"

Work for All.

PIERCE F. MORGAN, congratulated on the $5,000,000 check he had signed for the allies—the largest check in history—said:

"The war has made America very prosperous. There is work for all now. In fact, there is more than work for all. I heard the other day of a farmer who put a want ad in the Farm Journal, saying:

"Wanted—Hands. Hired girl, plump and pleasant. Canned music at meals. Pie three times a day. Hammocks, cow corners, dancing. Free chewing and smoking. Come one, come all."

Inconsistent Doctor.

WHY are you so sore at Doctor Jones?"

"The old hypocrite charged me $10 for advising me to confine myself to a diet of crackers and milk, and the very next evening I saw him in a restaurant blowing in my ten on lobster and champagne."

Some Help.

LITTLE HARRY: Can't I help, mamma, and wipe the dishes for you?"

Mother: No, my dear! You always break too many of them.

Little Harry: Well, mamma, that's a help. For you don't have so many to wash next time.

Had to Show Him.

WE'VE had a dreadful time with father since we settled into our new house," sighed the young lady with social ambitions.

"Why, I thought he was always so kind and generous," exclaimed her friend, in surprise.

"So he is usually. But he can be awfully stubborn. For a long time he absolutely refused to say 'drawing-room' instead of 'parlor' and said we'd have to show him a good reason for altering his way of speaking."

"And how did you make him change his mind?"

"Well, we managed at last to prove we were right by reminding him that it was the only room in the house in which the chimney would draw!"

Most Convenient.

Pelican: Well, I must say this is a very convenient way of serving gold fish.

Open House.

SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHER: Children, do you know the house that is open to all—the poor, the rich, the old, the happy, to man and to woman, to young and to old—do you know the house I mean?

Small Boy: Yes, Miss—the station house.

Utility Before Beauty.

YOU like a Norfolk jacket?"

"Yes, said the customer, "the belt is so handy to hang small packages on."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Generous Boy.

OH, ERRIE, I ate your orange by mistake, but never mind, I'll give you half of mine."—Life.

Lucile Elucidates on the Power of Suggestion.

By BIDE DUDLEY.

"W HADDYE think, friend?" said Lucile, the waitress, to the friendly customer at the lunch counter. "A fellow in here today wanted me to be a hula-boola dancer like the Hiawathians are. He says all I got to do is to go barefooted, wear a rope skirt and hop around. You ought to have seen me subjugate that guy."

"He comes in here and elevates his physiology to a stool and, when I fade into the picture, he murmurs: 'You'd be a wonder at it.'"

"Thanks," I says. "Would you mind informing me what I'd be such a wonder at?"

"The hula-boola," he says. "How's your contour?"

"It ain't on the poison card today."

"You see, friend, us serving ladies have got to lie now and then. I couldn't afford to tell him the beef was so puncture-proof that two men had named me verbose arguments about it already, so I just says it's fine. Get me?"

"Well, anyway, he shakes his head. 'I mean your finger,' he says."

"Say, that got my goat a fraction. I give him one look. 'Mind your own business,' I says. 'Don't get fresh. We ain't used to fresh things in here. If you don't believe it, order a brace of eggs.'"

"He frowns a little. 'Listen, lady,' he says. 'I'm a impresario for the dancing trade. You got the looks to be a good hula-boola dancer. That's why I'm asking you about your finger. Plenty of girls are getting rich dancing the hula-boola, and here you are wasting your young life away in a beanery doing the hop and fetch it.'"

"Very good Eddie, I says, 'but I'm to the apron born. My mother was the best arm waitress in the business.'"

"All right," he says. "Fetch me roast beef and we'll forget it."

"Say, ain't the powder of suggestion a peach of a subterfuge? I start for the kitchen and lo and behold, if I ain't doing a sort of a hula-boola wiggle step. 'Lizzie, the tow-head at the pie counter, sees me. 'Cold?' she asks."

Not the Kind Desired.

"I wish I could afford to own an automobile."

"It doesn't take much money to buy one these days."

"I know, but I don't want that kind. I hate to buy an expensive fluid like gasoline and then pour it into one of those cheap cars."

Poor Service.

MESSANGER service is mighty good out my way."

"So?"

"Yep. No delay about messages consigned to us. Our place is near the ball park."

QUALITY CLEANING

REAL SERVICE

The Better Plan.

WILLIE: Ma, may I have Tommy Wilson over to our house to play Saturday?

Mother: No, you make altogether too much noise. You'd better go over to his house and play.

Why She Wanted It.

ALGY: I want you to buy me a book.

"I am glad you are becoming literary, my dear."

"Fudge. This article says one way to acquire a good carriage is to practice balancing a book on your head."

Extra Good Service.

IS your new motor car a good hill climber?"

"Fine," replied Mr. Chuggins. "I only wish it would draw the line at hills. Sometimes it wants to try a tree box or a telegraph pole."—Washington Star.

Intensive Farming.

HOW'S farming?"

"Fine. You know that abandoned farm I picked up?"

"That prompted my question."

"I sold quarry rights to one crowd and rented the surface as golf links. Now if I can lease the air to some wireless company I'll have about everything under cultivation. Who says intensive farming doesn't pay?"

Too Youthful.

ARTIST (to parvenu): There you are sir! I've painted you a full line of ancestors, and I'll warrant you that none will know they are not genuine. This is your father, that your grandfather, this your great-grandfather, and—"

Parvenu: Hold on! Good heavens, man, you've made my great-grandfather, a much younger-looking man than I am!

Another Hand-Me-Down.

PEGGY was two years younger than Bessie. As is the way with younger sisters, Bessie's outgrown clothes became Peggy's humiliating heritage. One day Bessie made an exciting discovery. "My goodness!" she said. "I've got a loose tooth. I think I'll pull it out."

"Oh, don't," Peggy implored. "Mother will make me wear it."

Room Enough for Boats.

ARE the fish thick here?"

"Well, not too thick, sir," answered the native. "We have to use this lake partly for navigation."

THIS gardening truth's so very plain. There is no doubt about it. The flowers die for want of rain. The weeds get on without it.
